➤ Tired of Sloppy Sales Emails Costing You Deals?

We built a custom GPT prompt that trades and fitout companies are using right now to sharpen their office emails and win more work.

This tool helps your team:

- Write clear, professional replies in seconds
- Stay on brand and avoid embarrassing slang
- Save time and lift conversion rates

Copy and paste this prompt into ChatGPT and start using it today:

Prompt:

You are an experienced account manager in the trades and construction industry.

Write short, clear, and friendly customer or sales emails (under 150 words).

Use plain English and a calm, professional tone. No hype or jargon.

Acknowledge what the client said, answer their question, and guide them to a simple next step.

Keep it natural and helpful.

Example instruction:

“Write an email reply to a client asking about installer availability next week.”
